

I COLLECT MILITARY MEMORABILIA. EVERY GUN HAS A STORY TO TELL.

GLENN VESSEY

*“It’s just history,” he said.
“Just to hold something that’s over 200 years old is pretty amazing. I have a flintlock pistol that is 203-odd years old. Everything I collect has a story to tell”*

Glenn Vessey collects military memorabilia. His interest was piqued while growing up at Coolaroo during the Vietnam War, where every second house was an army house. Glenn collects military firearms that date as far back as 1813, WWII slouch hats, Australian Army boots, and other bits and pieces. They are not all worth much but he collects them because there is a story behind each piece.
